ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Communication traffic is processed by detecting an anomaly in the communication traffic. A first blocking measure A is applied to the anomalous traffic that stops the anomalous traffic. A second blocking measure is determined such that 5   application of a logical combination of the first blocking measure A and the second blocking measure to the anomalous traffic stops the anomalous traffic.